Did you know...

Champagne has often been a female business. Various widows ran the big houses during eras when it was unusual to see a woman in charge. She may not have been the first (widow Soyez came before her), but Mrs. Clicquot remains the archetype. Her wine was even called La Veuve ("The Widow")

247 Salon 1999 Natural sophistication! 37, the final count. There have only been 37 years worthy of Salon Champagne during the entire 20th century. 37 vintages, all different, all sublime, all unique, like this exceptional Salon Champagne, for which the word “one” is of prime importance: originally the champagne of one man, Aimé Salon, cultivated on one stretch of land, the Côte des Blancs, from one vineyard, Mesnil-sur-Oger, from one type of grape, Chardonnay and one year. 1999 is the thirty-seventh and last vintage of the 20th century: a wild nature, to be tamed, with power and expectancy, looking to a glorious future, still imminent. Mouth-filling, with a creamy, featherlight mousse and the vivacious chalky minerality of the Mesnil terroir, there is tremendous tension and self-assurance to this champagne, which remains nevertheless delicate and enigmatic. As ever finely wrought, Salon 1999 rides the knife-edge of finesse and power with characteristic panache.		1200.00

Well-structured, complex but delicate at the same time, Delamotte 2007 is accessible in youth but will age beautifully, if you can resist it that long.		168.00

Others were there before him, but it was Alain Brumont who put Madiran on the wine map. He left the family domaine at Boucasse in 1980, dissatisfied by his fathers lack of ambition for quality, and set up on his own. In a mere 20 years, Brumont has succeeded by a combination of breathtaking chutzpah and brilliant winemaking in creating the largest fine wine domaine in the south-west and establishing without a doubt that Tannat is a first division quality grape variety. The basic Bouscasse (70 percent Tannat) and Montus (80 percent Tannat) are matured in 50% new wood, and are very fine. The better cuvees, both 100% Tannat and aged in new wood, are brilliant.” CLIVE COATES “The Wines and Domaines of France

Burgundy - White

White Burgundy is improving at all levels: a result of greater knowledge, improved hygiene, New World competition, lower yields and, at the top end, biodynamic farming. A beautifully structured wine with dense ripe pineapple and citrus character underpinned with the chalky minerality which defines all great white burgundies
- 58 Beaune Clos des Mouches 2014 Joseph Drouhin  159.00
An outstanding wine. Pale yellow colour. Complex floral nose of white lilac and white rose. Once open, fruity aromas come to the fore, evolving towards grilled hazelnut and almond. When the wine is more mature, the nose is surprisingly strong and fifteen minutes of aeration produce wonderful notes of white truffle, citron (cedrat), honey and nutmeg, elegantly meshed together. Very lively on the palate. Its rich texture is in evidence, but also its structure and minerality. It is round, but never heavy. Harmonious fullness in the aftertaste.

During the late 19th century, several villages in the Cote d'Or were awarded the right to add to their name(s) of the grands crus produced in their locality. Thus, in 1882, Chambolle took the name Chambolle-Musigny, Gevrey became Gevrey-Chambertin, both Puligny and Chassagne villages share the name of their grand cru, the famous Montrachet and Ladoix, while Vosne has naturally benefitted from the reputation of Romanee.

FRANCE

Rhone

White Rhone, with the possible exception of Condrieu, is very unfashionable, partly as a result of grape varieties few have heard of, partly the often overblown style and partly its cost. All this is a shame because the well made wines are lost to most white wine drinkers. Our white Chateauneuf will surprise and delight the palates of those open minded enough to try it. There is proper Chateauneuf du Pape from serious growers that is getting more expensive by the second and cheap, dilute, over- sugared wines tasting of dirty old wood.

SPAIN

Does any country give such value and diversity in red wines as Spain? We collect the ultra traditional in fine vintages from La Rioja Alta and Vega Sicilia and the up and coming from areas like Priorat and Castilla Leon. Most of these are not supermarket cheap because of the costs of production but they more than stand up to more expensive wines from more well known sources. They are also food wines which, strangely enough, are meant to be drunk with food, which is not the same as saying that they are too tannic to drink on their own. Modern Spanish whites made from the Viura grape can be dull or bland but for real character try the old fashioned VinaGravonia, with its savoury flavours of wood or the mouth-watering minerality of the Albarino.

Baix Penedès

- 99 Blanco Seleccio 2014 Jane Ventura 23.95
The blend is Xarel-lo (65%), Muscat de Frontignac (18%), Garnacha (15%) and Malvasía de Sitges (5%). The wine is elegant and complex, showing predominantly citrus (grapefruit) and exotic fruit notes, along with white flower, fresh almond, fennel, and anise nuances. Rich, powerful, neat and unctuous on the palate, it somehow repeats the complex aromatic pattern it has on the nose, with great balance and structure.

Rioja - White

- 85 Viña Ilusión Rioja Blanco 2018 26.95

599 Conde de Valdemar BMB 1983  165.00
At a recent wine tasting this wine was a shining star at the surprise of everybody .

La Rioja Alta: is unquestionably one of the top bodegas of Rioja, traditional in style but not afraid of innovation. The names of the two top wines 904 and 890 refer to the dates of the founding of the company in 1890 and to it becoming a limited company in 1904. We are proud of the wines we list from this bodega, especially the older fine vintage.

924 Gran Reserva 890 1982  295.00
Possibly one of Spain's greatest reds- this is one of the finest vintages of this extremely rare wine

911 Gran Reserva 904 2010  99.00

Did you know...

Vineyard yields in Spain are among the lowest in the world.

The average yield is just 1.4 tons per acre (25hl/ha). This figure is remarkably low, especially when compared with that of neighbouring countries (4.2 tons per acre/70hl/ha on average in France). It can be attributed to the presence of very old vines in the various growing areas, as well as the rigorous climatic conditions that make life quite tough for the vine - but to the benefit of the wine.

Priorat - Red

Costers del Siurana: established in the 1980s this was the estate that put Priorat on the international wine map using indigenous old vine Garnacha and Carinena with Tempranillo and Bordeaux varietals. These wines are now much sought after and command high prices.

- 926 Clos de L'obac 1995  125.00
A blend of mainly old vine Garnacha and Cabernet Sauvignon. The wine has an intense violet tinged red colour, an aroma of ripe fruit with balsamic overtones and a lovely balance between fruit and wood. The palate is full, well structured with ripe tannins and the finish is very elegant and long.

Alicante - Red

- 677 Artadi El Sequé 2016  50.75
Powerful balsamic notes, mature fruit, unctuous: a fleshy wine that satisfies the identity of the Monastrell variety from the old vineyards of El Sequé. Produced from 100 % estate-grown fruit, this wine has a clear Mediterranean influence, with warm and calm nuances of black fruit and soft aromas and tastes of balsamic and aromatic plants. This is a wine with an authentic Mediterranean character

Alava - Red

- 903 Artadi El Carretil 2016  445.50
A wine with deep sensations: one can feel the vibrant fruit along with fibrous and sculpted tannins. A fusion between ripe flavor profiles and the precision of mineral characters, the projection of fine tannins and the encompassing texture of a delicate wine.

SPAIN

From the finest vineyard of the estate, this is a beautiful and distinctive wine. It manages to combine successfully the savage flavours of the red and black fruits with the wild herbs, chocolate and fine polished tannins.

Rias Baixas - White

- 74 Casal Caeiro 2018 Albarino 32.50
From the coolest part of Rias Baixas, this wine bursts with juicy Albariño character: pear, citrus fruit, musky perfume and hints of mineral and spice. It is clean, intense and very long on the palate.

Galicia - White

- 303 Louro Do Bolo, Valdeorras Godello 2020, Rafael Palacios 40.00
The 'Louro' is a straw colour with youthful highlights. It has intense aromas of citrus fruits, wild mountain flowers, hints of fennel and flinty nuances. On the palate, it is fruit-forward supported by a taut, saline minerality and a textural complexity.

NEW ZEALAND

Now reeling a little from over-production the Sauvignon Blanc success story in New Zealand from a standing start in the early eighties to world domination in the last decade or so, is quite extraordinary. And they look as though they might do a similar job with Pinot Noir and even follow that with Syrah, sorry Shiraz. As to the question do New Zealand wines age well, the 1993 Cabernet from the Goldwater Estate in the North Island can answer very much in the affirmative.

More than 90 percent of New Zealand wines are sealed with a screwcap. Beginning in 2001, work with this closure has convinced producers that it is the best solution for wines renowned for their freshness and aromatic purity. They have even formed an association called “New Zealand Screwcap Wine Seal Initiative,” designed to promote and explain the virtues of the screwcap.

AUSTRALIA

Once everyone's favourite source of exciting new wines, Australia is suffering from consumer indifference especially at the prestigious end where they have been patiently and successfully working away for the last twenty years. The wines have not got worse, most have improved but customer loyalty was lost somewhere along the way. Retasting wines like the Dead Arm Shiraz from the 2001 vintage makes their relative neglect ridiculous. We doubt that there is better value for money in the whole of our list.

Like many countries where wine appreciation is a relatively recent development, Australia places a lot of emphasis on wine challenges and competitions. These shows are very professionally organised and make a good promotional platform for the winning wines. They may be national or regional, confined wines from certain grape varieties, or simply encompass all wine categories.

We remember the 1978 tasting battle of the premier wines of California and Bordeaux. It was inconceivable that the Americans might win then and now it's even more inconceivable that the grandes of Bordeaux would ever allow another such contest. Our wines come from small boutique wineries, where quality is all important. The wines are reluctant to hide their lights under any form of bushel.

CHILE

Chile seems to have replaced Australia for the supply of simple well made prices at a modest price. But they are not content just to make basic wines, try the Ninquen red. It would flatter a much more famous wine region to have produced it. 175	Sauternes 2011 Château Cantegril Flowers and fruit that melt together to create a bouquet of remarkable complexity and balance	42.95
190	Sauternes 1976 Château d'Yquem A marvelous Yquem for this vintage! Caramel, butterscotch, honey and citrus nose, with a very attractive musty note. Apricots, freesias and a dash of petrol. Perfect balance in the mouth- delightful sweetness and tangy acid.		990.00
177	Château Climens 2013 1er Cru Berenice Lurton Pale lemon colored, the 2014 Climens reveals wonderful botrytis-inspired scents defining the nose with a core of ripe peaches, honeydew melon and lemon marmalade plus wafts of candle wax and orange blossom. The palate possesses an almost electric intensity with tons of layers and a lively backbone framing the generous fruit, finishing very long.		140.00
77	Gewurztraminer Beerenauslese Alex Sentfer 1976 An unctuous sweet Gewurztraminer with good mature flavours; a perfect wine to accompany a rich pudding		169.50
179	Cornell Rosatum Moscato Rosa 2006 (Rosé) It is bright ruby in colour with a delicate bouquet of roses and red berry fruits; spicy on the palate, smooth and luscious with an opulent sweetness cut by fruity acidity.	50cl	62.00
168	Rivesaltes Domaine Boucabeille Hors d'Age Matured for 10 years in wood this wine has light toffee and date flavours		65.00
169	Cuvaison Espiritu 2005 Napa Valley Hand made from Petit Sirah grapes and mellowed in old casks for 18 months, just nine barrels of this vintage desert wine were produced.	50cl	66.50
159	La Tunela Noans 2015 D.O.C. Friuli Colli Orientali An intense and complex first impact on the nose, of great elegance and purity in its bouquet of candied citrus, intermingling with a sweet, honeyed bouquet. Corpulent in the mouth, this is a triumph of the sweet and the aromatic, with fresh, persistent sensations working together to create a very impressive palate signature. Persistent notes of candied orange, citron, and lemon arise with a sweet finish of apricots in syrup. A well-balanced acidity closes the sweetness with a long, dry and non-oily end note.	50cl	56.00
